Message from the Commodore

Welcome,

Where has the summer gone. September is almost here. I am looking forward to Labor Day Regatta. If you can help please reach out to Chris Gedrose as, "many hands make the work light". Looking forward to racing and live music also. Don't forget about food. Please remember to do your scheduled tasks or get a replacement. Please also remember the next 2 work parties will do a lion's share to help close up camp for winter. Last weekend there was a lot of work done getting ready for Labor Day. Please plan to attend where you can.

Thank you to all who help make this Coos Bay Yacht Club a success. Don't forget to get your registrations in.

Smooth Sailing,

Gary Hodson, Commodore

Loaner Life Jacket Station

A selection of loaner life jackets is available in the Point Storage Room. Sizes from infant, child, youth, and adult are available. The intent is all ages may have a life jacket to use off the beach, on the docks and in boats. Guest may find a suitable life jacket to use for the day. They are labeled as “loaners” with the concept implied...”to borrow, means to return”. The best life jacket is always the one you are wearing!

Health Advisory

Toxic Algae Blooms at CBYC

This condition varies considerably. There are only two sample sites on South Tenmile Lake distant from CBYC and the public notification may not represent conditions at CBYC. It is better judged by what is seen in the immediate area by color, surface SCUM LIKE APPEARANCE, looks like an irregular paint spill, a little metallic appearance, not always pure green, more commonly a muddy green with brownish tinge, and the extent covered, and prevailing wind toward the docks. At CBYC is commonly collects in the corners at the intersections of the docks due to wind. The algae do migrate vertically with the time of day and wind. There are descriptive signs at the CBYC boat ramp and other side describing the appearance. If the swimming area is clear, it is probably ok. Water should not be swallowed. Ingestions can lead to health issues depending on quantity. It is serious, at its worst (can be fatal), it affects the liver without an antidote. The distinction is this should not be misinterpreted as the normal fine uniform sized aquatic floating and in the water column algae which is a very uniform pure green color. The actual lab test is very sophisticated, not local, and may not reflect the conditions the day you are present. As always swim at your own risk. Historically, locally, this is a reoccurring phenomenon that can be expected to continually change until late fall.

Dogs should always stay out of the water for multiple reasons and smaller body size.

For health information or to report an illness, contact the Oregon Health Authority (OHA) at 971-673-0482.

Fire Regulations are in Effect by Coos Forest Protection Association (CFPA):

Regulations are set by the Coos Forest Patrol Association. No brush may be burned anywhere until after the fall rainy season begins. CBYC is considered a camp “hosted site”, meaning someone lives there. An open small “warming fire” is permitted at the Point Fire Ring with conditions. Any fire in the ring must have available water, tools and be closely monitored. The fire must be extinguished after each use. When the fire Danger Level changes to RED/ Extreme by CFPA, no fires at the point are allowed.

Entrance Gate Protocols

The membership use of the gate lock has improved over the last couple of months but is not perfect. The gate has been found unlocked. When in doubt, lock it. Only the Commodore provides permission to leave it unlocked for club events. At that time the lock will be removed for the duration of the event. Carry you key with you and do not loan it out to guests. Meet guests at the gate.

Security Committee

Theft and suspicious activity should be reported immediately!

Call 911 for emergencies!

CBYC address is 96334 North Lake Ln Lakeside

Write this in your yearbook to have access to it at the club.*

Security Report:

The storeroom between the restrooms at the point must be maintained secure by locking both door locks – this is the Race Committee duty at the end of the regular Sunday races.

The gate security and lock usage has been a continuing problem. The gate is to be locked at all times coming and going. Meet your guests at the gate. The club lock goes on TOP! The gate may be left open for club events only by permission of the Commodore. At that time the entire pin and locks will be removed. Members could expect the gate to be locked at the end of the event. Since the “major theft” the gate has been left open, a key was found on the gate shelf, the lock and pin removed and locked with the gate open, the lock placed in the wrong location and in addition over a dozen “unlocked situations” reported of our facility!

CBYC gate lock (has red tape) on the TOP. To open, press against the gate and remove the lock and catch the pin. To re lock, close the gate, insert the wire to the bottom of the hole, hook onto the pin, raise the pin to the top, press against the gate to hold the pin in place and replace the lock. Make sure the lock is securely locked.

Security cameras are being set to be installed but are not yet in place.

The Coos County Marine Deputies toured our facility and offered suggestions to improve our security. They were each provided a key, our schedule, and encouraged to visit our facility ashore anytime. Please make them feel welcome as we establish a liaison to help us year round and especially mid-week and in the off season. They are Jon Holder, Justin Clayburn and Will Coleman. Please give them a full wave when you see them on the water- their boat is a little “stealthy looking” when seen from a distance however you won’t mistake it if you see the blue lights on. They operate several types of boats and keep one in the boathouse next to the county ramp during the summer. They wanted to know how to identify members – the answer is adult member will have a key just like theirs, and will have a membership card. Please keep you membership card in your vehicle or wallet, especially in the off season. They were informed any boat at our docks after November 1 is cause for further investigation.

Coos Bay Yacht Club Security, Aug 19

Most members are aware the club had a significant theft in April. The CBYC security efforts have progressed to having the CBYC board endorse the concept of exploring a “camp host” to live on site during the off season. While this effort has just begun, the membership can help!

The concept is to provide a “membership” (an employee is not wanted) and a living location, trailer site, to include amenities at no cost. The camp host would provide a trailer in suitable condition. Such amenities would include paid membership dues, water, sewer, electricity, moorage, and WiFi. Excluded would be garbage service and any heating (propane) expense. While the description of the expected duties has not been fully drafted yet, it would include general oversight of the club grounds and making a “presence known” throughout the off season. Perhaps it could be a Tenmile Lake winter destination for snowbirds fleeing harsher weather and liking coastal Oregon living on a lake full of fish.

1. Members – Please spread the interest among friends who could be a trusted camp host compatible with CBYC values. We are seeking recruiting assistance! If you have potential leads, please forward them to Frank Burger or George Tinker, hopefully by mid September. If a member would consider allowing their trailer to be used for the winter, probably by a friend known to them, it could open up the potential recruiting opportunities for a camp host.

2. If the camp host concept is not of your liking and you have concerns, please advise Frank Burger or George Tinker.

Great condition with a blue dock cover
Includes title, trailer and 2 sails.

This boat is located in Redding, CA. They're hard to find on the West Coast but since it was originally from CBYC, we'd like to see it find a home back on Tenmile Lake to continue racing in the Scow fleet. It was originally the gold Beach Bum but underwent a facelift with high-end Racing Red automotive paint. I'd be happy to take close-up photos of any part of the boat upon request and I'm willing to meet halfway in Medford for delivery.

New Members

New Member Highlights:

We have many new faces around the club lately. So, we are going to introduce you to some of the families in the Yacht Yak.

Families that have joined in 2019

Leah & Ed Hughes – Noah (age 5), Gwyn (age 6)

Leah is an Occupational therapist and Ed is a Fish Biologist. Their sponsors are David & Andrea Qualman. They love being on the water and sharing in a community of friends. I hope you have had a chance to meet this wonderful family.

Thomas Leahy

Tom is a Real Estate Broker, and has been a member before. He is also part of Rotary, Surfriders, and the Coos Bay Boat Building Center. He has wanted to re-join the club for some time and enjoys sailing and all the social activities. Please welcome Tom back to the club.

Miquel & Glenda Lanza

Dr Lanza is a Pediatrician at ... They look forward to learning to sailing and enjoying comradery with good people.

Zachary & Monica Wiest – Roguen (age 6), Quinn (age <1)

Zach is in the Coast Guard and Monica is a pre-nursing student. Zach built a 15' double ended sailing/rowing dory in 2012 while in Florida. He looks forward to see her return to her previous glory and find regular use at the club. Although the Wiest's will be transferring with the Coast Guard in summer of 2020, we will get to have the pleasure of getting to know them before that time.

Olav & Sirkka Saboe – Maiken (age 6), Rory (age 4)

Olav is in the Coast Guard and is currently stationed here in North Bend. He and the family look forward to enjoying the family atmosphere the club provides and making new friends. He wants to sail and/or crew. So, if anyone is looking for someone to crew, please reach out to him. Please welcome the Saboe's to the Yacht Club.

Juliana & Dan Meekins – Joey (age 13)

Juliana is a DHS Child Welfare Certifier and Dan is a Veterinarian. They are looking forward to fun family experiences nearby to them on the water more and visit with friends. Juliana and Joey were already out for junior sailing in June. Awesome!

Welcome to the Club New Members!
